STRIKE STILL MENACES HARRIMAN RAILROADS.

New Conference in Chicago Halts Decisive Action by Workers in the Shops.

CHICAGO, March 19 .- A strike in shops of all Harriman ratiroads scheduled to begin yesterday was held up pending the outcome of negotiations in Chicago between officials and representatives of the International Boiler-Makers' Union. It is said the danger of a tie-up has not been passed. Prazident George F. Duffy, of the union held a conference with President S. M. tion and graft, the Grand Jury met Felton, of the Chicago and Alten road. At night the executive board of the boiler-makers organization met. It was announced that the union will demand the reinstatement of the men who struck a month ago in the Alton shops. Bloomington.

The Alton strike was called off, but the company refused to restore all the strikers to their positions. President Felton holds that the walk-out is a closed incident.

As soon as court reconvened, Dr. Jelline was dismissed without any further question, and in his place Mr." Delmas called Dr. Charles W. Pilgrim, a local alienist. Pilgrim was an elderly, worn-looking man, with a white beard. In stating his qualifications, he said that he was President of the New York Board of Lunacy and formerly superintendent of the State asylum at Poughkeepsie. Just as he took the stand a notable visitor arrived in the person of "Fighting Jeff" Davis, United States Senator from Arkansas.

In reply to Delma's presentation of Jerome's hypothetical question, Pligrim gave the same answer which his preecessor of the defense had made. "In my opinion on the night of June 25, 1906, H. K. T., at the time he

Dr. Wagner gave the answer which his associates on the prisoner's side had given. He thought that Thaw didn't know the nature and quality of his act and didn't know the nature and quality of his act and didn't know the net was wrong.

"Can you tell us what kind of insanity Harry Thaw had?" asked Jerome when the time came to cross-examine.

"No," said Wagner wearly. He had made the same answer dozens of times.

The patron saint of the brain storm, Dr. Britton D. Evans, came next to the stand. He looked familiar, having spent upward of a week in the chair earlier in the trial.
